

The Holywell Dene Cycle path runs from Holywell Village to Seaton Sluice and follows the route of Holywell Dene as it flows through this part of Seaton Valley.

The cycle path runs between Holywell Village and Old Hartley. In Holywell, from the Milbourne Arms PH, follow Holywell Dene Road east to the Bridalway at the bottom as the road bends left. Go through the gate and follow the path to the old bridge that goes over the Waggonway. Here you can decide to join the Waggonway or continue east to Old Hartley and Seaton Sluice. Details of the Waggonway Cycle Path can be found on a separate route map.

Continue across the bridge and follow the Bridalway along the top of Holywell Dene between the treeline and the fields. The path eventually drops down to the Dene then joins a track after Hartley West Farm, and goes on to join the B1325. From here you can cycle up the hill to the Delaval Arms and join NCN 1 south to Whitley Bay and Tynemouth or North to Seaton Sluice.
